MISCELLANEOUS.

"August Flower"

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca, Mo., during the past two years has been affected with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades, in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower. Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is working a complete cure."

HEROISM IN A BIG CITY.

Brave and kind hearts in a rich fifth avenue home.

An Old Legend of Rome Is Enacted in Reality Right in the Midst of a Busy and Thriving Metropolis—People of Wealth Nurse Their Servants.

Emerson in his essay upon "The Conservative" relates a legend of the Friar Bernard in illustration of the truth that the best virtues are to be found in all conditions of society. If the story were merely an apologue with the essayist it has, I am glad to record, lately become a fact.

This is the tradition: "The Father Bernard lamented in his cell on Mount Cenis the crimes of mankind, and rising one morning before day from his bed of moss and dry leaves he gnawed his roots and berries, drank of the spring and set forth to go to Rome to reform the corruption of mankind. On his way he encountered many travelers, who greeted him courteously, and the cabins of the peasants and the castles of the lords supplied his few wants. When he came at last to Rome his piety and good will easily introduced him to many families of the rich, and on the first day he saw and talked with gentle mothers, with their babes at their breasts, who told him how much love they bore their children, and how they were perplexed in their daily walk lest they should fail in their duty toward them.

EMERSON'S STORY.

"What," he said, "and this on rich embroidered carpets, on marble floors, with cunning sculpture, and carved woods, and rich pictures and piles of books around you?"

"Look at our pictures and books," they said, "and we will tell you, good father, how we spent the last evening. These are stories of godly children and holy families, and romantic sacrifices made in old and recent times by great and not mean persons, and last evening our family was collected, and our husbands and brothers discourse," sadly on what we could save and give in the hard times."

"Then came in the men, and they said: 'What cheer, brother? Does thy convent want gifts?'"

"Then the friar went home swiftly with other thoughts than he brought, saying: 'This way of life is wrong, yet these Romans, whom I prayed God to destroy, are lovers; they are lovers. What can I do?'"

And this is the fact as a friend relates it:

"I called last night upon my friend in Fifth avenue. His house is stately and magnificent. It abounds with every device of luxury. If not tasteful it is rich. If not elegant it is profuse in splendor. While I sat gazing around me at the mirrors and carpets and curtains and costly furniture my friend entered and cordially welcomed me.

"Where have you been so long?" said I. "It must be many weeks since I have seen you."

"You know," he answered, "that we were absent upon a visit to Cousin Charles for some time, and upon our return the doctor told us that two of the servants lay ill with the ship fever, and that the children must be sent away immediately. So we sent them to their grandfather's, near Albany, and my wife and I remained to take care of the servants."

EXPOSED TO DISEASE.

"Did you know what a terrible disease it was?"
"Yes, the doctor warned us. But we could not leave them when we knew how critical was the situation. It was hard to part with the children, and they cried bitterly at going, knowing to what dangers we were exposed."

"And I know," answered I, "for I have had the ship fever, and for two weeks lay utterly senseless, like one dead."

"Both of the servants," continued my friend, "were delirious for two weeks before they died, which increased our care. It is a very dreadful disease, and very hardly it bore on my wife. But there was no one to assist us. All the other servants left, and we could get no nurses. We took all possible precautions. The beds were placed in the middle of the two largest rooms, and by opening the folding doors we could throw them, with the smaller one between, into one large room. There is a passage from the ceiling of the middle room directly to the skylight in the roof, and by opening that and dropping the upper sashes of the windows of the room we could ventilate the rooms perfectly."

"I see," said I, "and they died?"
"They both died, and we buried them in the Catholic cemetery."

"Why," thought I, glancing at the painted walls and glittering chandeliers, "the sumptuous Vendome and the splendid Tenderloin precinct do not offer a more instructive contrast than this single hearted heroism in the midst of this regal splendor?"

Here is another "deed for New York to be proud of." Gilt sometimes covers pure gold.—New York Herald.

Not in the Second Hand Business.
As Sheridan was entering court one day carrying his books and briefs in a green bag, according to the custom of the time, some of his brother barristers, thinking to play a joke on him, urged some boys to ask him if he had old clothes for sale in his green bag. "Oh, no!" instantly replied Sheridan, "they are all new suits."—San Francisco Argonaut.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE annual meeting of the stockholders of the Reno Electric Light and Power Company will be held at the office of the Company at Reno, Nevada, Thursday, April 30, 1891, for the election of Directors for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

WHAT THE CENSUS REVEALS.

Superintendent Porter of the Census Bureau tells a correspondent of the Chicago Herald some of the things revealed by the census, one of which is that the people are leaving the country and going to the cities, and another is that native American women are decreasing year by year as mothers of children. The large families in the United States, and especially in New England, are those in which the mothers are of foreign birth. This Mr. Porter attributes to the tendency to live in cities, where the birth rate is notoriously low, especially among the well-to-do.

The cities are growing at the expense of the country. In Massachusetts, for instance, fully 70 per cent. of the people live in cities. In 1790 twenty-nine people out of every thirty in the United States lived in the country. In 1820 only one man out of every twenty lived in towns or villages. In 1860 one man in six was living in the cities. Ten years later one man in every five lived in the cities, and now, out of every ten men, women and children in the United States, three of these are living in cities or villages. The change is astounding and the tendency seems to be increasing the city population right along.

The causes assigned by Superintendent Porter for the change from country to city life is that the people want life for their brains. They like the society of their fellow-men, and the tendency of modern civilization is combination. The success that men who go from the country have in big commercial enterprises, in manufactures and in public affairs of the city tempts their fellows to leave their farms, and the result is as stated.

There are other causes than these assigned by Mr. Porter for the change, the principal one of which is legislation which has encouraged the growth of cities at the expense of the country. Though the farmers to-day, few as they are comparatively, produce the great bulk of exports and save the country from being mortgaged to Europe, few of them get rich and the majority of them in the Western States, which produce the wheat, corn and bacon that keeps the balance of trade in our favor, are mortgaged for all they are worth, while people engaged in industries favored by legislation, become wealthy. Under such circumstances it is not surprising that Jerry Simpsoms have left the plow to take the stump, in fact the only strange thing about the matter is that the farmers have borne the burden imposed upon them so patiently.

THE NEW SCHOOL LAW.

The text of the new law relative to the election of School Trustees is printed in this issue of the JOURNAL. Lawyers say the Legislature must have been helplessly hypnotized when it passed the Act. One section says an election shall be held in each school district in the State on the fourth Monday in May, 1892, while another as imperatively declares that in counties having a certain voting population an election for School Trustees shall be held on the fourth Monday in May, 1891, and every two years thereafter. As both claims are mandatory and one conflicts with the other it remains for the courts to say what they think the law-makers mean.

Another clause of the Act provides that at the election to be held in May 1894, there shall be elected in each School District, having a voting population of 1,500 or over at the last general election, two Trustees for four years, and one for two years and the Trustees elected to serve four years, shall take office on the first Monday in January 1895, and those elected to serve two years shall take office on the first Monday in January, 1893. In plain English School Trustees elected on the fourth Monday in May, 1894, are to take office just seven months before they are elected.

The Act, too, it will be observed, wholly and utterly ignores the Secret Ballot law, which makes it the duty of the County Clerk to provide printed ballots for every election for public offices in which any voters will in the county participate.

Taken altogether the Act is a curiosity and it would be interesting to know the mental condition of the bosses who "influenced" the majority of the solons when they passed it.

The object of the Act was doubtless to separate school elections from political elections, but the Legislature mixed and muddled the matter until it is simply ridiculous.

A UNIQUE CASE.

Two years ago John Leford was sentenced to the Dakota Penitentiary for fifteen years for attempting to rob the Homestead stage. At that time the statutes of Dakota provided that where an unsuccessful attempt was made to commit highway robbery the penalty should be one-half the greatest penalty for a successful commission of the crime. The court in Leford's case guessed that he had thirty years to live and sentenced him to the penitentiary for one-half that time—fifteen years. The Sioux Falls correspondent of the Minneapolis Tribune says Leford's attorney on habeas corpus proceedings contended that the sentence was illegal, as the penalty of one-half of a man's life was so vague and indefinite that he should not be deprived of his liberty. The Judge agreed with the attorney and ordered the prisoner released.

BY TELEGRAPH!

News of Importance From Home and Abroad.

The President at San Jose—He Receives an Invitation to Visit Nevada. Special to the Journal.

SAN JOSE, April 29.—The Presidential party arrived here at 4 o'clock this afternoon. A National salute was fired and the large crowd which was gathered at the station cheered lustily. The visitors were escorted to the hotel Vendome where an address of welcome was made by Mayor Racker and responded to by the President. A street parade followed and visits were made to the High School, Normal School, Notre Dame Convent and other educational institutions. Buildings along the route were handsomely decorated and the President and ladies received beautiful floral tributes. This morning the President received a cordial invitation from the Governor of Nevada to visit that State, but was compelled to decline because of the impossibility at this time of changing the schedule already agreed upon.

DEL MONTE, April 29.—The Presidential party arrived at Del Monte shortly after 7 o'clock this evening. At the request of the President his arrival was devoid of ceremony in order that Mrs. Harrison and the other ladies of the party be allowed time for rest and preparation for tomorrow's programme. The Hotel Del Monte, where the party spent the night, is beautifully decorated with flowers and bunting, the rooms assigned to the President and ladies of his household being special objects of beauty.

The President was informed this evening that the Chinese Emperor had notified his Minister at Washington of his unwillingness to receive Mr. Blair, the newly appointed American Minister to China. The President said it was news to him, but made no other comment.

A Speculator Missing. Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, April 29.—It is rumored that B. F. Hutchinson, the veteran speculator, is in financial trouble. Hutchinson is missing and is believed to have wandered away in a fit of mental aberration. It is not thought that any one will lose through him.

A gentleman who is a near relative to Mr. Hutchinson said the family had seen for some time that his mind was affected, and had been considering whether it would not be better to take some measure to restrain him. Trades made by him are found to be few in number. They are being settled now and there are ample funds to meet all his liabilities.

LATER.—He left the city last night, having purchased a ticket to Pensacola, Florida. Before going he paid visits to two of his favorite drinking resorts, and in each place announced that he would not be seen again. It has been a common rumor on the Board that business misfortunes had unbalanced "Old Hutch's" mind.

Fire at Chattanooga. Special to the Journal.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 20.—A fire which started in Campbell & Co.'s furniture factory on King street early this morning, was gotten under control at 7 o'clock, after destroying property covering twenty acres. Loss $250,000, on which there is an insurance of $150,000. The heaviest losers are: Campbell & Co., furniture factory, loss $75,000, insurance, $50,000; the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railroad Company's freight depot and contents and 75 carloads of freight. Loss $125,000, insurance not known. A large quantity of lumber in the vicinity and a number of buildings burned will bring the loss up to the total given.

While this fire was in progress a second broke out in another part of the town, doing damage to the amount of $20,000.

Signor Imbriani Creates an Uproar. Special to the Journal.

ROME, April 29.—Signor Imbriani, who stirred up a row with ex-Premier Crispi a few weeks ago, created another great uproar in the Chamber of Deputies to-day. He charged the Italian Government with permitting the African slave trade to be carried on openly, and also asserted that thirty-five girls taken from former owners under the pretext of rescuing them from slavery, had been distributed among Italian army officers. Premier Rudini protested against such accusations without proof, and the Minister of War declared that he would not remain in the House unless the charge was withdrawn. Such tumult ensued that the sitting had to be suspended.

The Olsen Trial. Special to the Journal.

MILWAUKEE, April 29.—In the Olsen trial to-day, Henry Smith, an employee of Jake Olsen, explained how the blood on the accused man's bacamo got there. He said that on November 5th, a horse was sick at the ranch and Jake Olsen bled him. Olsen's horse was tied near and some of the blood probably got on the bacamo. Judge Law decided not to allow the jury to visit the scene of the murder. The defense will probably finish this week.

Union Pacific Officers Elected. Special to the Journal.

BOSTON, April 29.—At the annual meeting of the Union Pacific, the following officers were elected: President, Sidney Dillon; Vice President, S. H. Clark; Second Vice, G. M. Lane; Controller, Oliver W. Winke; Treasurer, G. Harris; Secretary, Alexander Miller.

Articles of Incorporation.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL.
GALVESTON, Texas, April 29.—Articles of incorporation have been forwarded to the Secretary of State of the Pan-American Education Promoting Association. Its aims are to promote and establish and solicit aid for the Pan-American University upon the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, where languages, habits, uses, customs and trades of American Republics may be learned, thereby promoting the mutual interests and extending the acquaintance of commerce to American people.

Mr. Blair Returns to Washington. Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, April 29.—To-night Mr. Blair received a telegram from Secretary of State Blaine requesting him to return to Washington. The message contained no other information and Mr. Blair will go back tomorrow. He said he had had no official notification of any change and knew nothing of the rumors that he is to be sent to Japan or Persia. Until the receipt of the message he was not aware that he was not to continue his journey to China. So far as official knowledge goes he is still the accredited Minister to that country. Personally he does not care whether he goes or stays.

The Red Men Enlisting. Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—General Schofield is well pleased with the progress made in enlisting Indians in the army. He said: "If we can get two well-drilled and contented troops of Indians we shall be doing all we expected at this time. These will be the cause of many more Indians enlisting, and I think I can see the day ahead when there will be no more difficulty in getting good soldiers from the Indian reservation than there is to-day in enlisting white men."

Tin Plate Manufacturers Organized. Special to the Journal.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Representatives of the chief tin plate manufacturing firms of the country to-day perfected an organization of tin plate manufacturers of the United States. The object is to promote the manufacture of tin plate in the United States. It was stated that several mills were already working, and as soon as others can be built they would produce 60,000 net tons of tin plate per annum.

Filed a Petition of Insolvency. Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Charles H. Sinclair, Superintendent of the Mission Rock warehouse filed a petition of insolvency, to-day with liabilities amounting to $22,000, owing principally to San Francisco creditors. Assets are not stated but are nearly all encumbered.

Count Von Moltke Interred. Special to the Journal.

KREISMAN, April 29.—The remains of Count Von Moltke were interred here to-day with impressive ceremonies.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health. At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE NEW SCHOOL LAW.

Trustees to be Elected in Certain Counties Next Month.

An Act to provide for the election of School Trustees, and matters properly connected therewith. Approved March 10, 1891.

The people of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An election of School Trustees shall be held in each School District in the State on the fourth Monday in May, 1892, and at such election two Trustees shall be elected, one to serve two years and one to serve four years; provided, however, that in districts having a voting population at the last preceding general election of fifteen hundred or over, one Trustee shall be elected to serve two years and two to serve four years. The Trustees elected to serve two years shall take office on the first Monday in January, A. D. 1893, and serve until the first Monday in July, 1894, and the Trustees elected to serve four years shall take office on the first Monday in January, A. D. 1893, and serve until the first Monday in July, 1895. At the election to be held in May, 1894, there shall be elected in each School District one Trustee to serve two years, and one to serve four years; provided, however, that in all districts having a voting population of fifteen hundred or over at the last general election, two Trustees shall be elected for four years, and one for two years, and the Trustees elected to serve four years shall take office on the first Monday in January, 1895, and serve until the first Monday in July, 1899, and those chosen to serve two years shall take office on the first Monday in January, 1893, and serve until the first Monday in July 1895.

SEC. 2. At the school election to be held the fourth Monday in May, 1896, and every two years thereafter, there shall be elected one Trustee to serve four years, and one Trustee to serve two years; provided, however, that in School Districts having a voting population of fifteen hundred or over at the last general election, there shall be elected two Trustees to serve four years and one to serve two years, and said Trustees shall take their office on the first Monday in July next succeeding their election, and hold until their successors are elected or appointed; provided, that in all counties having a voting population, at the last general election, of more than seven hundred and seventy-five, and not exceeding seven hundred and ninety, there shall be an election of School Trustees held on the fourth Monday in May, A. D. 1891, and every two years thereafter. There shall be elected at such election two Trustees to serve two years and one Trustee to serve four years, and at each election thereafter there shall be elected one Trustee to serve two years and one Trustee to serve four years. They shall take their office on the first Monday in July next succeeding their election.

SEC. 3. In all cases where Trustees are not elected as provided in this Act, the County Superintendent of Schools shall fill vacancies by appointment.

SEC. 4. All Judges and Inspectors of Election shall be appointed by the School Board in each district, and said Election Board shall issue certificates of election to those receiving the greatest number of votes cast in any election held under the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 5. Not less than ten days before the special election held under sections one and two of this Act, the Trustees in each district shall post notices in three public places in the district, which notices shall specify that there will be an election held at the school house of such district and the hours between which the polls shall be kept open. If, within five days of such election, the Trustees of any district shall have failed to post the notices required by this section, then any three electors of the district may give notice of such election, which notices shall be sufficient for the election required by this Act.

SEC. 6. The voting shall be by ballot, either written or printed, and when two or more Trustees are to be elected for different terms, the ballot shall designate such term as long term and short term, respectively.

SEC. 7. Any person offering to vote may be challenged by any elector of the district, and the Judges of election must thereupon administer to the person challenged an oath in substance as follows: You do swear that you are a citizen of the United States; that you are twenty-one years of age; that you have resided in this county thirty days, and in this School District thirty days next preceding this election, and that you have not before voted this day. If he takes the oath prescribed in this section his vote must be received, otherwise his vote must be rejected. Illegally voting under this Act shall be punished the same as the law now provides for punishing offenses of this character.

SEC. 8. The Trustees must appoint the Inspectors and Judges of Election, and such other officers as may be necessary. If none are so appointed, or if they are not present at the time of opening the polls, the electors present may appoint them. Any such officers so appointed shall serve without compensation.

ANOTHER HARD TIMES REMEDY.

How to Make a Home Market for Farm Products.

RENO, April 29, 1891.

EDITOR NEVADA STATE JOURNAL:—I read with interest the article of "Progress" in your issue of 29th inst. It is good! I have no cold water to throw on it. It deals with the country, I with the town. While it furnishes rural produce, I seek to make it a paying market. Each benefits the other. It is a miracle how the denizens of a town, said to be a smart, public spirited community, for twenty-three years have dwelt by the side, ab, on both sides, of a river that has been singing, in a gentle monotone in late Summer and Fall, and in thunder tones the rest of the year, "Here is a mine of ever-ending wealth and prosperity to thee," should never have heard, or never have heeded, this refrain of the river. It has been peined in an universal language that every ear, learned in polite and barbaric tongues, can understand, yet the river with its song sweeps by, and the denizens on its banks sing, "It is hard times and nothing to do." Wake up Reno! Wake up Washoe! Rub your eyes and listen to the lay of the Truckee, and understand the song it has dinged in your ears day and night since 1868.

THE SONG OF THE TRUCKEE.

It has been saying, "Organize! organize! organize!" and build a V flume from Reno to its mountain sources, and bring to your valley the wealth of peak and gorge, at a nominal cost, that shall make your city the lumber mart of the "Great Basin," that shall furnish your town and all its accessible markets with cord wood at $2 per cord, with a generous royalty to the builders of the flume. Build a V flume large enough and strong to float wood, lumber and sawlogs to your town from the mountains, with feeders there from each connecting stream, and you will lay the basis of manufactures, mechanical works and a market that will support a city of 50,000 people, instead of less than 5,000, that now wring their hands and groan over dull times, and it will furnish a market then for every pound of produce that can be raised on all the increased acreage that reservoirs and canals can bring into cultivation.

THE COST OF A FLUME.

Can it be done? A V flume built along the banks of the Truckee river, just above high water, with feeders and replenishers, can be constructed to Lake Tahoe and Donner lake and other sources that would transport, the Sierra Nevada mountains, with all its forest growth, at the rate of 8 to 10 miles an hour, to Reno. Such a flume, with a sawmill at its head, could be constructed at a cost less than $2,500 per mile that would float at a profit a cord of wood at 15 cents; 1,000 feet of lumber at 25 cents, and sawlogs at less figures.

The writer knows whereof he speaks by an experience in building such flumes of years back, and the cost of operating the same. Patient examination will develop the truth of the cost, and the economy of the operation. Let Alvaro Evans, H. H. Beck, C. C. Powning, F. G. Newlands, M. D. Foley, et id omne genus, of progressive capitalists, mentioned in the article referred to, probe to the depth of practical truth, the foregoing suggestions and they will find in them a panacea for all the dullness of our present and prospective future, and open up a world of prosperous probabilities lying in the domain of possibilities, and beyond this hasty glance of what the Truckee river, rightly applied, will certainly bring to us. AN OLD TIMER.

PLUCKY MINERS.

Their Energy Deservedly Rewarded.
James Harvey of the Ingersoll mine in Cottonwood Canyon, four miles south of Unionville, informs the Silver State that they have traced the ore on the surface for some 760 feet. They have run several drifts on the lode, being in ore most of the time. The lower tunnel is in 60 feet, and about 280 feet below the upper works. They have sunk a winze 60 feet below water level, it being in good ore the entire depth. The ledge at that depth is eighteen inches in width; the ore is a bright carbonate as they gain depth. The location is on the same belt with the once famous Moonlight lode, the ore of which worked as high as $2,000 to the ton. It is supposed to be an extension of that vein.

The boys, Messrs. Pfleger and Harvey, have shown considerable pluck and perseverance in staying by this property, as they have for several years. Oftimes being embarrassed financially they would leave the claim and go away some where, make a small amount of money and return to the claim and resume work, never losing faith in the prospect, at times being almost drowned out by water, then again, striking hard rock that took several sots of drills to put down a hole. Such pluck and energy is certainly deserving of success, and from all accounts the boys are about to realize their fond hopes, and, if not immediately becoming millionaires, they will in a short time be in easy circumstances.

An Interesting Opinion.
A lady—we shall not tell her name—had a most amusing experience with Benjamin P. Hutchinson the other day. This lady is deeply interested in charitable work, and ever and anon she lends herself to the disagreeable task of soliciting money contributions to such worthy causes as she may happen to have in hand. This is rather ungrateful employment, but this lady applies herself cheerfully to it, for she recognizes it as a part of her Christian duty. It befell that this worthy woman had occasion to approach Mr. Hutchinson the other afternoon, and she did so in the spirit of charming good nature, which is, perhaps, her most conspicuous characteristic.
Now Mr. Hutchinson is a wary bird, and seldom it is that he is caught in a corner by anybody. But this particular lady was so exceptionally bright and exuberant that the crafty millionaire gave up a crisp $20 bill almost before he was aware of it. And then, as we can easily suppose, he began to regret it. On her part the fair solicitor was considerably surprised; she had heard that he was a hard, unfeeling man, yet had he not responded promptly and generously to her appeal? She was so grateful that she insisted on shaking hands with the old man, and as she did so she remarked, feelingly, "We do not always get our reward here, Mr. Hutchinson, but we should remember that the Lord loveth a cheerful giver."
"Yes, I've often heard tell," answered Mr. Hutchinson dryly, "but I'm more interested in finding out the Lord's opinion of a cheerful beggar."—Chicago News.

Twine from Marsh Grass.
A St. Paul (Minn.) special says that through the efforts of an inventor of Iowa articles which can be manufactured from common slough grass are attracting considerable attention. The farmers of the northwest have been paying large prices for binding twine, and it is this fact probably which started George Lowry to investigate the uses to which common marsh grass could be put. He has made several inventions which are an assured success. The binding twine made by his method is strong, durable, and, above all, cheap. While the material from which ordinary binding twine is made costs from $120 to $180 per ton, slough grass costs from $3 to $5 a ton, and the cost of making the twine from either material is about the same. A company has been organized for the manufacture of this twine. The company will also make cordage of all kinds, bagging and matting from marsh grass. Marsh grass makes good rope in any size, and formed into small twine it can readily be woven into coarse cloth of great strength, which can be put to a variety of uses. The cotton planters of the United States annually raise about 7,000,000 bales of cotton, which require about 60,000,000 yards of bagging. The jute bagging costs about eight cents a yard. The grass twine bagging can be made at about one cent a yard less.—New York Tribune.

Why Not Try Chamols?
"I clean my eyeglasses these days with a ten dollar note," said a well known citizen the other day, with a smile, as he began to rub his spectacles with a bill. "It cleans the glass and doesn't hurt the money. A one dollar bill would answer the purpose as well as a note for a hundred, but in this case I happened to have the ten and used it."
"I have been cleaning my glasses for years with bank notes, and I have never found anything that makes them as clear. If you use a handkerchief it leaves the lint behind, and ten to one the glass is blurred. The money removes all the dirt and grease, and leaves no trace of itself. Am I afraid of contracting some disease of the eyes? Well, I never thought of that, and I know that some physicians claim that diseases are transmitted by money, since it passes through so many hands. No, I am not afraid; and I will continue to use the bank notes for this purpose. The texture is soft, and it certainly removes dirt. Indeed, there is nothing like paper money for polishing fine glassware."—Albany Express.
